

Why We Don't Invite Others to Church

(Based on an article by Dr. Chuck Lawless)

More than one study has shown that large percentages of unchurched people would consider attending a church if someone simply invited them. The problem is not the attitude of the unchurched; rather, it is often the failure of church members to invite others. I have included below several reasons given in these studies for not inviting people to church:

1. "I just don't think about it." Many church members have contact with the unchurched every week, if not every day. They go to school with them, work with them, live beside them—and sometimes live with them. What church folks don't do, though, is see the unchurched as "sheep without a shepherd" (Matt. 9:36), as spiritual beings in need of Jesus and a church family.
2. "I'm afraid I'll be rejected." Nobody likes to be turned down, especially after taking the risk to invite somebody to church. It's easier to avoid that possibility by not inviting anyone at all.
3. "We've got too many church problems right now." Church members don't always know all the issues facing a congregation, but they recognize when something "just isn't right." They see the attendance decreasing, or they hear of internal conflict. Simple stated, they don't want to invite their friends onto a battleground.
4. "Our church is already too crowded." This issue is particularly an American one, as Americans we protect our personal space. We don't like being cramped, even in church. One way to avoid more crowding is to stop inviting anyone.
5. "Nobody ever challenged me to invite anyone." Some members never think about inviting others because no one has challenged them to do so. This response is especially tragic if many unchurched would respond affirmatively to an invitation.
6. "I don't know how to start the conversation." Simply inviting somebody to church would seem easy, but that's not the case for many church members. In a culture where discussing religion is almost forbidden, even long-term Christians struggle with initiating an invitation to church.
7. "It's too far for people to come." We live in a mobile culture that promotes church attendance sometimes quite far from where we live. And what was interesting was that those church members who drive a long distance are less willing to invite others to drive that same distance.

Have any of those statements crossed your lips or your minds? Sometimes it is so easy to put off witnessing or even just extending an invitation to worship, or to assume someone else will do the inviting. But, we cannot escape the fact that Jesus our Savior "wants all men to be saved and to come to a knowledge of the truth" (1 Tim. 2:4). We also cannot escape the fact that most unchurched people who come to church for the first time did so because of an invitation from a family member or friend.

But, here is a more important question: Who do you know that needs Jesus? Who is in your family or your circle of influence that you can't live without in eternity? Write their names down and post them somewhere you can regularly see them and lift them up in prayer. Ask God to show you the opportunity to invite that person soon. You could pick up a Mount Olive brochure from the W's Board in the Welcome Center under Word, or a church business card from the Welcome Desk to use with you invitation. Their eternal destiny may depend upon it. God bless your witness!

Pastor Jon

Stephen Ministry

By Dave Dawson

Just a little update on some exciting news from Stephen Ministry at Mount Olive. A lot of people at Mount Olive have expressed interest in becoming Stephen Ministers but the training schedules never fit your busy life styles. We are customizing our training schedules and have the ability to train as little as one or two people.

You can now pick your top two choices which are as follows:

- Sundays after 10:30 AM service
- Mondays at 6:30 PM
- Tuesdays at 5:30 PM
- Wednesdays at 6:30 PM

Training has been broken down into 60-90 minute timeframes for 20 training sessions. And if you have to occasionally have to miss a session we will work with you to make it up. How's that for flexibility! Nice and spread out for easier more relaxed learning. Training would start this fall in September or October. Contact a Stephen Minister for an application to have it filled out by August 1 or as soon as you can.

Welcome - Life

By Pastor Randy Stroming

We NEED to live LIFE according to God's Word. When we walk through the challenges of life and life throws us a curve ball, where do we look for help? What do we need to put our trust in? Who do we need to put our trust in?

Many times we fall to fear and its consequences when we are tested in life. There seems to be a feeling of being attacked, weakness or foolishness that arises inside of us when these, circumstances arise. Fears and anxiety are a signal of a threat to some value an individual holds essential as a human.

How do we deal with such fears? Sin can cause fear and anxiety? Satan likes to put doubts and confusion and chaos in our lives. We can have no real freedom from the challenges and tests until we are at Peace with God and know the freedom of sins confessed and sins forgiven. David knew such fears and knew where to find his strength to face life no matter what!

David wrote that there is no reason to fear because of Gods promise to him. In 2 Samuel 7:15a God told David "But I will never stop loving him. I will continue to be loyal to him."

David therefore said Psalm 27:1, "The Lord is my light and my salvation: whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

The Lord is Our Light. He guides and leads us.

And my salvation. He is our salvation.

Whom shall I fear? If God is on our side, nothing can separate us from His Love.

The Lord is the strength of my life. The Main support of our life

Of whom shall I be afraid? No one has power to take life away while He defends me.

Our strength is in Jesus. We need to keep our eyes and heart on Jesus everyday!

Prayer: Father thank you for providing abundant joy in my life no matter what my circumstances. In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen!

“Chosen to Proclaim” – A Convention Recap

“But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for his own possession, that you may proclaim the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.” 1 Peter 2:9 ESV

The words “chosen” and “proclaim” remind us that God has chosen us, set us apart to proclaim the Good News of salvation in Christ Jesus, our Lord. The 78th convention of the Minnesota South District, gathered June 21-23 under the theme “Chosen to Proclaim” at Concordia University in St. Paul.

Following the theme verse from 1 Peter 2:9, times of worship and Bible study were interspersed throughout the typical convention business of elections and resolutions to remind the delegates and guests of the purpose and mission that is ours in Christ.

Rev. Dr. Lucas Woodford was newly elected on the second ballot with 54% of the vote. Following his election, he addressed the delegates: “My approach is to love the Lord, love people, and love our Lutheran theology, in that order. Where differences remain among us, I hope to bring more light and less heat, and be a voice of reason that speaks with compassion and understanding, as together we consider what it means to be a 21st century confessional Lutheran church ‘who desires all people to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth.’”

The four vice-presidents elected to serve with President Woodford are:

- 1st Vice President: Rev. David Mumme, Trinity, Waterville (Region III)
- 2nd Vice President: Rev. Thomas Evans, Emanuel, Inver Grove Heights (Region I)
- 3rd Vice President: Rev. Harold Storm, St. John, Gaylord (Region IV)
- 4th Vice President: Rev. Dr. Brent Parrish, Immanuel Fish Lake, Prior Lake (Region II)

The following resolutions were among many that were adopted by convention delegates (Mount Olive was represented by Pastor Haakana and Bruce Degen):

- to affirm planting of new churches as a means of reaching new people for Christ
- to encourage congregations to participate in the district’s New Church Incubator, which uses a crowd-funding model to support new church plants
- to expand evangelistic outreach on college campuses
- to encourage immigrant and refugee outreach
- to affirm the current number of assistants to the president and staff at the District Office
- to affirm the work of the To All Generations appeal to support our Lutheran schools and early childhood centers
- to memorialize Synod Convention to implement term limits for the Synod President and First Vice-President

Most importantly, the convention centered on the saving work of Jesus Christ. Bible studies presented examined a portion of Peter’s 1st letter to the church that calls on believers to grow as a community, show loving concern for others, and to clearly proclaim the Good News of Jesus Christ as Savior.

Work Ministry Focus - Stewardship

By Jon Holtz

If you have been to church lately you have started to see TV's being put up around the building. Do you wonder why? How can Mount Olive afford them and what is the purpose?

Why are they important?

The TV's are important because we live in an increasingly non-readership world. Over 98% of people receive information from "I SAW" rather than I read. In fact, as I write this, I will do an experiment and publish the results next month. If you read this article, please contact me either in person, or by contacting me at 763.421.7156 x 126 or by email at jonholtz@mtolive-anoka.org. I will be keeping track of how many people will be contacting me. To be fair now and God is watching! Don't skew results by telling a number of friends but quietly let me know—Thank You!

They are also important because it will allow professional communication, less tape on doors, and the ability of ministries to broadcast their message better.

How did we afford them?

We were able to afford them through a couple of different financial gifts, some specifically for this purpose. Secondly, the costs of the whole project were cut significantly by donation of labor efforts of Robert Polster, Joel Trebesch, Justin Rucks, Bob Antoine, Al Springer and others (sorry if I forgot anyone). The savings were significant (thousands of dollars in savings) and allowed Mount Olive to afford this project.

What is the purpose?

The purpose of the TV's enables Mount Olive to have four closed circuit channels. One for a feed from the Worship Center which will send such things as the Worship Service, Events, Live feeds, and other sources. Second, a church announcement channel which will have current church announcements that everyone must be aware. Third, a school announcement channel which will have announcements for pre-school parents. The fourth channel will carry a TV channel or other programming.

I hope this has helped people and I look forward to updating you next month!

Blessings!

Jon Holtz

WITNESSES

EVERYONE IS INVITED TO SPOKE FOLK!

On August 11 and 12 you are invited to a phenomenally fun and inspirational for all ages program put on by 40 youth from all over the country. They are spending two weeks BIKING all over MN sharing God's Word though, music, skits, testimonies, and more! Mount Olive will be serving as Spoke Folk's "home church" during their training during the first week of August, and they will be sharing their "Homecoming" program with us during regular service times:

Saturday - 5:30 PM, Sunday - 8:00 & 9:30 AM

Calling all 5th Graders and their families...

At Mount Olive we start formal confirmation classes when kids enter 5th grade. To ensure a clear understanding of confirmation, it's implications for the faith life of your family, and things specific to the program at Mount Olive, our Director of Youth Ministries, CAROL KIETZMAN seeks to meet with each of the incoming 5th graders AND THEIR FAMILIES. It's actually a great chance to get to know Carol, have some DQ (Carol's treat) and get excited about the next step in your family's faith journey. Be on the lookout for a letter to come home regarding these visits.

"Children will learn far more by watching than by listening." - Billy Graham

With the beginning of the school year upon us I have been pondering the ramifications of education of any sort, and my role in it. It seems that, throughout the decades, both church and state have taken more and more of the responsibility of training children out of the hands of parents. Even at church, the concepts of Sunday School and Confirmation have gone from them being used as tools and supplements to what they were also seeing and hearing at home to something very different. Now it seems, much like the educational system, that Christian Education tools have replaced parents involvement in their kids faith walk. Culture has trained us as parents to look to someone "trained" or "more knowledgeable" than ourselves to teach our kids Holy Scripture and how to have a saving relationship with Christ. It's up to the organized churches to train our kids to have servant hearts and be followers of Christ. Obviously, parents maybe don't intend for this to be the situation, but it so easily becomes it. It's the expected norm set up by current culture. Let's face it, it's easier too. In the midst of todays ultra scheduled and busy lives (including my own), it's so much easier to let a trusted source do the training. But here's the thing, we are only with your kids 1-3 hours A WEEK. We have very little influence in and of ourselves as church leaders. We want to help guide your family, we want to supplement your - the parent's - knowledge base and set up opportunities for growth in Christ, but without the parents desire to know the Lord, without them daily seeking out God's wisdom and grace, and without their ongoing desire to SHOW their kids what it means to follow Christ, it's really an uphill battle to have the kids follow in Christ's footsteps. The youth team at Mount Olive is excited and ready to help your family seek Christ TOGETHER!
